The State Institute for School and Media Berlin-Brandenburg (LISUM)

We are at your service – your partner in the school education area of Berlin-Brandenburg

The Berlin-Brandenburg State Institute for School and Media (LISUM) is an institution of the Federal States of Berlin and Brandenburg for the joint school education area.

We are your partner for all aspects of lesson, school and staff development as well as for multi-media education. We support you in quality development in the education sector.

LISUM is the only state education institute operating for two federal states. Accordingly, Berlin and Brandenburg endeavor to join resources in the education area, gain synergetic effects and aim at harmonizing existing systems in important fields of education.

LISUM focuses on developing concepts for coun-sellers and multipliers whereby we also qualify these teachers. We design manuals and materials which will support teachers in their practical work.

Lesson development

Our main focus is

- developing and implementing curricula and relevant materials
- implementing education standards
- developing exercises and tasks for central examinations, comparative tests and the like

We carry out projects and activities aimed at competenceoriented and standard-based lesson development.

School development

We consider school development to be a structured process of changing a single school with the goal of improving the quality of school work in its entirety. To achieve this end we qualify teachers who can support and advise our schools. We also support school culture through seminars for parents, pupils, students and teachers as well as through qualifying seminars in interdisciplinary topics.

Staff development

The focus of staff development is on the qualification of

- heads of schools
- school supervisors and inspectors
- school psychologists and
- school steering groups.

Multimedia education, education online server

Our multimedia sector supports schools and other training institutions to integrate multimedia learning into everyday life.

We offer qualification courses and counselling on current topics.

There is a professional learning management system available for networking and project management.
